You are a part of a very select group of church leaders with major impact on large numbers of lives in North America. With that in mind, the Center for Studies in Global Christianity, in partnership with Nyack College/Alliance Theological Seminary and Promise Church, has designed a conference just for you!

At “Learning From the Global Church,” you will meet other renowned international church leaders for two full exciting days of enthusiastic exchange of ideas and empowerment. The format is designed to maximize group dialogue and exchange of best practices in the context of the North American church. To maintain the organization and exclusivity of this gathering, we will accept reservations from the first 200 people who register by July 3, 2010.

The Christian Church is vibrant and growing. “Learning from the Global Church” is a conference where pacesetting leaders can learn and share the best ministry practices of the global church in the North American context. This meeting will foster the transfer of knowledge to edify the ministries of local congregations. Our speakers and participants will ignite or rekindle together the enthusiasm and dynamism of Christianity.
