

Dr. Lyndell O'Hara

Professor of History
Chair, Department of History

361 Broadway, Room 614
New York, NY 10013

Lyndell.OHara@nyack.edu
875-675-6145

Education

M.A., PhD. Fordham University
B.A., M.A. Empire State College, SUNY

Areas of Specialization/Expertise

- Tudor and Stuart England: Women and Protestantism
- Church History
- Women's History in Europe and America

Current Areas of Research

- Economic, social and religious history of women in late 19th century America
- Death and Dying in Tudor and Stuart England

Courses Taught

- World Civilizations I & II
- Medieval Civilizations: East & West
- History of Christianity (Undergraduate and Seminary Levels)
- Renaissance & Reformation
- Europe in an Age of Revolutions
- Nineteenth Century Europe
- Modern Europe
- Historical Inquiry
- Colonial America
- Women in American History
- History of New York City
- History of Art
- Reformation Thought

Membership in Professional Societies

- American Historical Association
- American Society of Church History

Publications & Presentations

Presentations

- New Jersey State Historical Society: "Prosperity in Piety: Women in Ocean Grove, 1900"
- Ocean Grove History Day: "Land, Ladies, Liquor and the Lord: Women in Ocean Grove, 180 – 1900"